

Project Celebration Night

It was a remarkable night on Saturday, March 24th! The Kohl Children's Museum prepared a wonderful party for all of us, who engaged in project work. Schools and centers from Chicago and the suburbs gathered for two hours of free play and exploration, and to share the fruits of their labor in incredibly meaningful ways! We enjoyed a delicious meal of pizza, fruit, and vegetables and polished off a few cookies for good measure. Families from the four and five's class were able to sit together as one big family at the dinner table. It was fun having our parents and teachers together on a Saturday night riding a school bus and enjoying each other's company.

The project engagement was such a unique and wonderful experience for all; it helped us discover and empower our capabilities as young investigators; it helped us strengthen our friendships and to learn the way we felt was meaningful to us. We grew to be scientific thinkers and problem solvers- we learned skills that will help us in so much of our future school experiences! Thank you to the parents who found the time and willingness to share this important Saturday night with us. We are grateful for your appreciation!

Sincerely, Miss Eva and Miss Lily
